

Moral and Social Values

PRAGNESH K PATEL

According to Dr. Radhakrishnan “After all, the importance of any country is not justified due to its area, its population or its industry, but it is justified only due to the values. Which were presented to the world and they were involved in the lifestyle of people.” The cost of everything increases remarkable in the Morden time of 21th century. On other side, it seems remarkable loss in the values of life in Morden human being. As per dictionary, value means something important and useful which includes quality. In short, the thing or idea is how much necessary – it justifies its value. The Morden human being and society blindly follow the physical values for the aliveness of life. It is necessary to realize the values such as moral, social, logical, spiritual, economical, physical, biological, political, non – secularism and global for the from the above values, moral and social values are like the money and base of our life.

Moral Values

Humanity, honesty, frankness, sacrifice, faith, purity, justice, generosity, compassion, kindness accept other's feeling, proper behaviour, etc are moral values.

- Humanity
The feeling, love or kindness to other creature.
- Honesty
The person should follow rules and regulations strictly decided by society. Transparent character and duty like people own image.
- Frankness
The person's behaviour is like to match between his outer behaviour and his inner thoughts and beliefs.
- Sacrifice
Feel happy to give something as well as to get something.
- Faith
To do his work responsibly without any observation, Alertness for his own duty and rights.
- Purity
The person's attitude should be free from his physical and should be pious.
- Justice
Every person would get as per his right due to justice.
- Generosity
Polite feeling in one's own behaviour.
- Kindness
Feelings, love and warmth to all the living creatures of nature.
- Accept other's feeling
Attitude to accept other's sorrow and happiness.
- Moral conduct
The person should follow rules spread by society, ideal and equal thinking the source of knowledge.

Moral values are immortal and universal. Moral values are connected with a person from his birth. Morality means presentation of truth, Lord Shiva and beauty. It also means the person's desirable and suitable conduct. Moral values are also developed from the person's own encouragement.

- “Values are caught rather than taught.”

- “Moral values are never taught.”

Social values

Brotherhood, public service, help, apology, social justice, care of public property, ideal civilization, social rights of women, unity of nation, non – secularism and internationality etc. are the social values.

- Brotherhood
The personal conduct of someone regarding equality and equal sharing.
- Public Service
The person should utilize his power in social works for total development of society.
- Help
To be helpful in other's work
- Apology
If the person's should feel sorry or not for his wrong conduct, we should not be ready to give him punishment. We should keep kindness.
- Social Justice
Each person should get something as per his own rights and he never loses anything.
- Care of public property
Take care of useful natural and physical things.
- Ideal Civilization
To participate in the development of nation using own rights and duty.
- Social rights of women
To give importance to ladies in home, family and give they honour.
- National unity
All should keep national unity and brotherhood and participants in social development.
- Non – Secularism
To honour all religions and give respect. Co – operative conduct with all religious public. Religious kindness and broad thinking.
- Internationality
To conduct values like liberty, equality, to remove gender or cast difference and untouchable feelings to backward class public. To realize and follow the principle of brotherhood for all over the world.

The moral values are established due to social rules and regulations of different types of people. They satisfy the person. They are productive values, too. He knows the new type of social conduct as he comes in touch of them some activities increase the social capacity of a person. On other hand, generous presentation of oneself introduces social values.

- “ Values are the beliefs and nations that the men hold, that they live by and live for.”

- Bhatia

- “Values determine what we should do and how we should do.”